Coolidge May Veto Bill If It Fails
To Raise Revenue To Meet
Increases

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Bound by a rule which rendered debate or amendment impossible, the house today passed, with scarcely a dissenting voice, the compromise postal pay bill. The bill, which has been a political football for the last two years, now goes to an uncertain fate in the senate, the house rejected the bill passed recently by the senate and leaders in that body are understood to be prepared to substitute the sterling Pauley bill for the House measure.

In the event a substitution is effected in the senate, House leaders say that the bill will go to a "sky-is-the-limit" conference committee and no forecast can be made on the character of the measure finally submitted for the approval of both houses and the president. If the bill fails to raise the revenue necessary to meet the proposed increase in pay for postal employees, the President has served notice that another veto may be expected.

After democratic leaders had vigorously denounced the "Gagrule" and republican leaders had shown an apathetic interest in the bill itself, the house voted 245 to 97 for the adoption of the rule. The bill was passed by a viva voce and roar of "Ayes" drowned a few faint "noes" in the rear of the chamber.

Damages Refused In Suit Filed On Wrecked Barn

Superior Judge H. V. Alvarado yesterday afternoon denied the plea of Leslie L. Rhodes, a resident of the Emeric tract, near Richmond, for judgment for $1400 against Michael Nugent and J. L. Costa for unauthorized wrecking of a barn on his property and erection of the structure at another point on Rhodes' land.

Nugent and Costa claimed in their defense that because the barn was too close to Costa's home they obtained the sanction of Rhodes to move the barn to another part of his property. Rhodes denied that he had ever given permission to move the building, which was described as a flimsy structure.

Before the structure could be completely erected by Nugent and Costa it was blown down. Rhodes asked damages of $400 for loss of the barn and exemplary damages of $1,000.

Y. M. C. A. Board Postpones Meet

The meeting of the board of directors of the local Y. M. C. A. which was scheduled for last night was postponed indefinitely on account of a number of the members of the board being unable to attend on account of illness. The date as to the new arrangements will be given out as soon as the sick members are again on their feet.

Was He Selling Liquor to Pay Former Fine On Similar Charge?

Michael O'Keese, 507 Ocean avenue, was arrested yesterday afternoon and charged with violation of the Wright Act, following a raid on his place by the police, and the discovery of jackass brandy. His son, William O'Keese, was also arrested and charged with the same offense. This makes the second offense for the elder O'Keese within the past two months. On the first charge he was fined $500 or a day in jail for every dollar unpaid. He was released on his promise to pay the fine, as he is a man of 72 years of age.

As O'Keese hasn't paid his fine for the previous offense, commitment papers were taken out yesterday after the raid and he was taken to Martinez last night to serve his time—500 days. The present charge is pending.

The son was released on the deposit of $500 cash bail. His case will probably come up for hearing in the police court today.

Narcotic charges also resulted in indictments by the Federal Grand Jury against Wong Men of Stockton and Tow Hutton, Lem Suey and Ah Lung of Marysville.

INSURANCE COMPANIES PROBE

Witness in Windmill Tragedy Insists That Youth Fell To His Death

(By Universal Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—The discovery in San Francisco yesterday of John H. Tipton, sought for a week as the key witness in the "windmill mystery" death of Lee Camp at Hanford, December 14, was the signal of the start of an automobile race from Hanford to San Francisco.

The racers were District Attorney William R. McKay of Kings County, and Attorneys Harry Brown and J. F. Pryor, representing Mrs. W. Stanton Brown, foster mother of Camp, on whose "ranch of Regret" Camp met his death. Tipton is an uncle of Mrs. Brown and was employed on the ranch.

McKay left immediately on receipt of the news Tipton had been found. Brown and Pryor, desirous of questioning Tipton before McKay sees him, hired a fast automobile and started in pursuit as soon as they heard McKay had left.

Tipton, believed to have been the last person to see Camp alive, admitted when found yesterday that he had been in hiding, but stated he had concealed himself to avoid questioning by private detectives and other "unauthorized inquirers" who sought to quiz him.

The $30,000 worth of life insurance taken out by Camp, some of it a short time before his death, has caused the seven insurance companies that wrote the policies to investigate every angle of his death on the theory he may have been murdered, instead of killed, by a fall from a windmill on the Brown ranch, as was held by the coroner's jury which investigated the case.

State Collects $3,000,000 In Gasoline Taxes

(By Universal Service)
SACRAMENTO, Feb. 10.—State controller Ray L. Riley today announced collection of $3,000,000 in gasoline tax money for the last three months. Of this amount $965,707 was paid by the Standard Oil Company. As soon as a list of delinquents has been prepared, suits will be instituted to secure additional money due the state.

Coroner's Jury Recommends S.P. Safety Device

At an inquest held last night at Brentwood by Coroner Charles F. Donnelly into the death of Mrs. Ida Standerson and her daughter Ida, of Oakley, the jury returned a verdict of death by broken neck and back caused by a collision between an auto in which the Standersons were riding and a Southern Pacific train, No. 49.

The coroner's jury was unable to fix responsibility for the accident but recommended that a safety device be installed at the crossing near Byron where the accident took place. The woman and her 6-year-old daughter were killed on January 21.

Bridge Company Buys 30 Acres On Waterfront

The Minter Estate Company has sold a tract of 30 acres on the Richmond waterfront to the San Francisco Bridge company for $18,500, according to deeds filed yesterday with the county recorder in Martinez.

Just what this huge deal in property portends in the further development of the Richmond waterfront could not be learned last night, but that it does, or will ultimately, mean some big improvement can almost be taken for granted.

The San Francisco Bridge company is a well known financing as well as a dredging concern and recently has been operating in the vicinity of Martinez and Carquinez Straits.

Requa Rainfall Shows 12 1-2 Feet

(By Universal Service)
SACRAMENTO, Feb. 10.—The torrential rainfall which visited the Sacramento valley last week was literally only a drop in the bucket compared with the record breaking downpours registered today from Requa, Del Norte county, on the Klamath river.

Harlan D. Miller, State Bridge Engineer, claims California's rainfall record this year for Requa, describing the Del Norte county situation as follows: "The rain gauge at Requa became full about a month and a half ago and has been running ever since that time. Up to the time the gauge overflowed, the total amount of rain was 12 1/2 feet."

GOLDEN GATE FERRY STARTS SPRING SERVICE

All indications point to an early spring and auto and freight traffic shows a steady increase. These are reasons advanced by the Golden Gate Ferry Company, for setting the time of the beginning of the summer schedule one month ahead of last year. The summer schedule became operative April 1st last year and H. E. Epeas, vice president and manager, has announced that this year it will begin March 1st.

Already indications of early road travel are beginning to show many cars going over the ferry with camping outfits aboard. Marin and Sonoma counties have developed so rapidly since Golden Gate ferry began operations that motor car operators are asking for, and have a right to expect, augmented service effective March 1st, 1925.

The new schedule is the same as the company had last year. The first boat leaves Sausalito at 4:30 a. m. and San Francisco at 5:00 a. m. The last boat will leave Sausalito at 12:30 a. m. and San Francisco at 1:00 a. m. Special 20-minute service will be effective Fridays, Saturdays, Sundays, Mondays, holidays and such other times as traffic requirements make necessary.

FLOYD COLLINS, CAVERN EXPLORER WHO ENCOURAGED
RESCUERS, CAVE WHERE BOULDER HELD HIM CAPTIVE

Cheerful even after a second cave-in balked rescue workers who had striven for six days to release him, Floyd Collins, his leg pinioned by a seven-ton boulder, directed their further efforts in San Cave, at Cave City, Ky. Just as the rescuers were confident on the fifth day, that they would release Collins, part of the roof and wall fell in and barred them.

President Halts Preparations For Big Inauguration

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 10. Plans for an old-fashioned inauguration next month, surrounded by pomp and ceremony, were definitely abandoned today in conformity with President Coolidge's wishes.

With the exception of a parade, limited as to size by order of the President, the ceremony will be as simple as that with which President Harding was inducted into office, four years ago.

President Coolidge feels strongly that an elaborate inaugural would be out of keeping with the administration's policy of strict economy. The parade will include only Governors of States with their staffs and military and naval units stationed in and near the capital.

The only events on the official program March 4 will be the President's taking the oath of office and delivery of his inaugural address, from a stand in front of the capitol, and his passage to the White House, escorted down Pennsylvania avenue by a comparatively simple parade.

Plans for holding the charity ball, the night of March 4 are still in effect.

Snowstorm Breaks Over Chicago And Temperature Falls

(By Universal Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—A snowstorm broke over Chicago tonight.

The snow followed the spring weather that broke all records for February. The snow began falling at 6 o'clock and a little later raindrops intermingled with the snow flakes. Slush covered the streets.

The temperature that had been 62 degrees above zero a few hours ago had dropped to 32 degrees, the freezing point.

But no extremely cold weather was indicated for any part of the country. The Atlantic seaboard still complained of dense fogs. Steamships were delayed and train service demoralized.

General Electric Company Charged With Lobby Bribe

By John T. Lambert, Staff Correspondent of Universal Service.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—An investigation to determine whether the General Electric Company has spent large sums of money to maintain active lobbies in Washington and State Legislatures to influence elections or to interfere with publicly owned electric plants will be made by the Federal Trade Commission in connection with its general probe of the alleged power trust, it became known today.

The commission will make plans for the sweeping inquiry ordered by the Senate at a meeting here tomorrow.

Authority for a probe into any possible political activities of the power interests was contained in two amendments written into the Norris resolution by Senator Norris himself.

One section authorizes the commission to ascertain "the manner" in which the General Electric "acquired and maintained" the alleged monopoly.

Another section authorizes the commission to inquire whether the company "through the expenditure of money or through the control of the avenues of publicity" has influenced or controlled public opinion relative to public ownership of municipal plants.

J. L. Reed, formerly associated with the financial department of the San Joaquin Light and Power company of Fresno, is now in Richmond and is taking up his new duties as the house department manager of the Sydney S. Clark Real Estate company.

Mr. Clark stated that Reed has had a wide and varied experience with financial and real estate ventures and expects to have great success in disposing of the many new houses being erected by the Clark company at the present time to keep up with the growing condition of the city. He expects to move his family here within a short time.

PROBE REVEALS "HOAX" CHARGES ARE UNFOUNDED

Floyd Collins Proven to Be Still Held Prisoner In Kentucky Cavern

VICTIM IS STILL ALIVE

Pal Is Exonerated; Exactly What
He Prophesied Would Happen
Did Occur

By A. H. Kirkland, Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

CAVE CITY, (Ky.) Feb. 10.—Everything that undirected human valor can do for Floyd Collins has been done, and that effort has ceased. Scientifically planned and skillfully directed technical efforts are now driving their way through the bowels of the earth toward his icy crevice in Sand Cave.

If he is still alive, and he can live two, possibly three more days, he may be saved. He cannot be saved sooner, unless something happens that no expert now on the ground will predict.

Those seem fair conclusions to draw from the testimony heard today before the military court convened by Lieutenant-Governor H. H. Danhardt of Kentucky, who is also Brigadier-General of the state troops now in charge at the cave.

MAN IS STILL PRISONER

The fact was clearly established that Floyd is a prisoner in the cave, and circumstantial evidence was adduced to show that he has been in the cramped position in which he was caught a week ago last Friday, ever since.

The rhythmic noises heard in the radio car phones cut into the electric light wires leading to the bulb tucked under his clothing the last time would-be rescuers reached him, still continued today. They varied from 12 to 14 a minute. The drop indicates, according to Dr. William Hazlett of Chicago, that he has fallen into a stupor or deep slumber.

APPEARS IN STUPOR

"Assuming that the noises we hear are caused by the vibration of the filaments in the light bulb as his chest heaves and falls in breathing, he apparently has been sleeping or has fallen into a stupor," said the physician. "That is the only conclusion I can draw. He has not contracted pneumonia or the respiration would be more rapid."

Lacking any definite information, Dr. Hazlett declined to give an expert opinion on Collins' condition. His curbstone opinion is that Collins is dead.

The rescue shaft was exactly 33 feet deep this afternoon and workmen were driving it 10 inches an hour. Muck and water are slowing the progress of the diggers. There is about the same distance yet to go straight down.

PAL IS NOT ARRESTED

Johnny Gerald, a pal of Floyd Collins, whose arrest was ordered last night by Governor William J. Fields, was not arrested. He appeared here today at both sessions of the military inquiry. He probably will be one of the last witnesses. It was said that he had stopped volunteers from going down the natural tunnel. Although Governor Fields gave no public explanation of his order for Gerald's arrest, it was assumed Gerald had sinister motives in keeping the volunteers out.

Testimony at the inquiry seemed to exonerate him. At least it was made evident the fact that Gerald's warnings that "you'll never come out alive if you go in" had a solid foundation. Exactly what he predicted, a blocking of the passage by falling debris, took place. Had anyone been near Collins when the slide took place they would still be down there with him.

OREGON STARTED SOMETHING

The gasoline tax originated in Oregon in 1919, when a 1-cent a gallon tax was levied by the legislature. At each succeeding session of the legislature this tax has been increased until at the present session a proposal is made to raise it to 6 cents. Various other western states show the same record.

It is inevitable that the taxes accruing from the sale of gasoline will increase at the present rates of taxation, because more cars are constantly coming into use. In California, it is estimated on good authority that the increase for the next ten years will be 5 per cent per annum, which will mean that more than $400,000,000 will be raised by gas taxes during that period, a sum considerably in excess of that said to be needed.

Where is the justice in continually raising the rate of taxation on one product, the benefits of which taxation are derived by every citizen of the commonwealth? Is this equal taxation?

LEAVE THE PEOPLE FREE

It is the business of Government to provide an open road for the exercise of the individual initiative of its citizens, not to substitute its own activities for that initiative; to see that free opportunity is given for the economic production of wealth, not to produce wealth itself. That government is the wisest which does not attempt to perform those functions which more localized agencies, governmental or otherwise, can perform for themselves. It is the business of Government to regulate and control, not to manage or operate. In the stress of international competition, in the endeavor to produce the goods and create the means by which to improve living conditions, to raise social standards, and to increase the intellectual capacity of its citizenship, that nation will progress fastest and farthest which leaves its people freest from hampering restrictions.—Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce.

DESTROY YOUR OLD GREEN AND WHITE LICENSE PLATES

When you place the new 1925 license plates on your car, destroy the old green and white 1924 plates. Do not throw them along the roadside or in the street where they may be picked up by anyone.

This request to motorists was made yesterday by the California State Automobile Association on behalf of the law enforcement officers of the state. According to the Automobile Association, motor car thieves are particularly active during the re-registration period. It is a practice of those who traffic in stolen automobiles to replace the number plates on the car with old plates which have been discarded.

As cars with 1924 license plates can operate unmolested until after March 2, it is particularly difficult for the authorities to recover during the re-registration period a stolen car when its regular plates have been replaced with a set discarded by some other motorist. The changed numbers throw off suspicion and make it hard for officers to identify the stolen cars when they are seen on the streets and highways.

IMPROVEMENT CONTINUES

The improved condition of agriculture has been the most important change during the past year.

Although all farm products are not bringing higher prices than last year, and a very few lower, the general position of the farming community is decidedly better.

Looking at the matter from all angles, indications are for a return to more normal relation between farm products and other commodities than have prevailed over the last several years.

The diaphanous stocking of spring is to be of a shade known as "blush".

You kissed me. My head dropped low on your breast.
What a feeling of comfort and infinite rest;
And the holy emotions your presence made free,
Dropped down, in a blush, from my heart to my knee.

Fifty Londoners have volunteered to disrobe in public, walk naked round Hyde Park and past Buckingham Palace, as a protest against sartorial tyranny. If they feel they can't be happy without displaying their hides, they're certainly picked a park with an appropriate name.

The township of Salechio, in the province of Novara, Italy, is being hailed as the happiest spot in the world. In 1923 none of the 400 inhabitants died. In 1924 none of them was married. It's a sequestered little place and the magazines don't reach them. Probably the real reason they're happy is that they've never encountered a listerine advertisement.

Match Your Slippers to Your Frocks

Is the New French Dictum.

THE shoes worn with an evening dress should match exactly either dress or trimmings, says a fashion dictator in Paris. And this means, "high-heeled sport shoes." Once, of course, the shoe salesman smiled or looked perplexed if you asked for a shoe of that description. Obviously high heels didn't grow on sport shoes. High heels would be shooed off any tennis court and no one could play golf in high-heeled shoes. But there are countless sport frocks and hats that never get any nearer to a tennis net or a putting green than the country club veranda—and with clothes of this description the high-heeled sport shoe is well chosen.

DRESS FOR DAYTIME

A clever presentation of the ensemble effect in this costume in dark blue tulle trimmed with novelty braid. The front of the dress is dart-fitted at the underarm seams and cut out in a V-shaped neckline, though it is not visible when the applied front is buttoned straight up to the round collar which finishes the outer neck of the model. Straps of self-material trimmed with buttons are attached on the long sleeves in an original way, extending below the lower edge of the flare at the back. Medium size requires 3 1/4 yards 54-inch material and 3 1/2 yards braid.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

By MARY MARSHALL

If you have ever sojourned in England and have had the good fortune to dine occasionally in a private house as well as in hotels or boarding-houses you may have tasted marmalade sauce served with a steamed pudding of some sort. Of course, no typical English house is ever without orange marmalade and it is, therefore, most convenient to dip into the marmalade jar for the wherewithal to make a pudding sauce—far simpler than using fresh oranges, which are not so usually on hand as marmalade.

Here is the recipe for English marmalade sauce: Put a cup of water and two generous tablespoons of marmalade in a saucepan and cook, stirring it until it boils. Add two teaspoons of sugar and a teaspoon of lemon juice, and serve hot.

A very nice pudding is made by English housewives from marmalade and stale bread. The recipe calls for two cups of bread crumbs, a cup of finely chopped suet, two eggs, five or six tablespoons of the marmalade, a little baking powder. Mix the bread, suet, baking powder and a pinch of salt. Mix eggs without separating and then add the marmalade and add to the other ingredients. Add a very little milk, making a stiff batter. Turn into a greased mold and let steam for two of three hours.

In making any sort of orange dessert, such as orange jelly or orange cake filling, the flavor is usually improved if a teaspoon of marmalade is added with the orange juice or fresh orange pulp called for. The flavor of orange rind contained in the orange marmalade gives a pleasant tang to the dish.

Builders Exchange Postpone Social; Plan Local Bids

Announcement was made yesterday that the Richmond Builders' Exchange social which was to have been held on Friday has been postponed until February 20. Because the master plumbers, who are to put on the entertainment, are attending another function this week, the function was postponed.

The bids on the general contract for the new municipal bath house will be opened by the city council on February 16 and as contractors from the entire bay cities are going to submit bids, the local contractors expect to have much competition, according to L. C. Dexter, secretary of the exchange. On February 14 at 10:00 a. m. the sub-bids will be opened in the Builders' Exchange.

Superior Court today. The estate consists of Richmond property valued at $2500. The heirs are Ghidella's two sons and a daughter, all minors.

My Matrimonial Vacation

by VIOLET DARE

AUTHOR OF "The Half-Time Wife," "The Husband Tamer," "One Wife on Approval," etc.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

NANCY LARRABEE remains in New York with her mother, VIRGINIA, when her husband, JIM LARRABEE, who is an army officer, goes to the Philippines on foreign service. Disillusioned after six months of marriage when she sees another woman in her husband's arms, she plays the social game as her mother dictates, in her relationships with FRANK HARRISON, a wealthy man twice her age, and NICHOLAS WAYNE, whom she really likes.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT

VIII—A MAD ADVENTURE

THE stranger whom I'd called Michael turned to me and laughed softly as the door closed behind us.

VIOLET DARE

"How about having a cocktail before we begin explanations?" he asked. "I imagine that they'll take quite some time." I laughed too. "No, not at all; you'll have them in tabloid form at once," I explained. "I wanted to keep a dinner engagement without letting my mother know about it, and so—well, I invented an old school friend, Louise, with whom I said I was to dine—and when—when—"

"Your father," he supplied, as I hesitated.

Why would people always insist on thinking Frank Harrison was my father?

"No, just—well, a friend of the family who was at the house, who had asked me to dine with him—well, when he said he'd bring me to Louise's house, I gave an address at random, and then he came to the door with me—and there you were!" He laughed again, uproariously.

"Delightful! Now, surely you'll stop and talk with me a bit before you rush away to this sub rosa dinner engagement, about which mother and the—the friend of the family—aren't to know. My name's not Michael, the one you so kindly supplied, but—"

"But why not just be Michael to me?" I asked. "It's dreadful, always having last names and pedigrees attached to everyone. Let's be original."

"Very well. But tell me your name. Nancy—thanks. I'd have called you Diane, but we'll let it rest at Nancy for the present. Now, on to the library—I've got a shaker full of particularly good brandy and lime juice in there."

"Oh no, I can't," I said, drawing back. A strange man wasn't so bad, but I had no intention of drinking with him, especially as I don't drink anyway, because it's so bad for the complexion. "I'm very late now, and—"

"I won't hear of it!" he protested. "Certainly I'm to be rewarded for playing up to you so admirably. Come along, little girl."

I shook my head. "No—I'm staying right here, and you can bring the cocktail shaker to me—make it a sort of stirrup cup, if you insist."

"Bringing Mohammed to the mountain, eh? All right—"

He rushed off down the hall. I quietly opened the front door and slipped out, the moment he was out of sight. Too bad when he had been getting away from me, and when you're a buccaner on the social sea you can't afford to let that happen to you.

I ran down the steps, dashed around the corner, and hailed a taxi. I gave the driver the address of the Italian restaurant where I was to meet Nick, and drew a deep breath, which turned into a laugh as we passed the very house from which I'd departed so hastily a moment before.

For on the steps, cocktail shaker in hand, was the man I'd called Michael, looking up and down the street like a cat from which a mouse has just escaped.

"Score one for Nancy!" I said to myself. "Too bad to run away, but not too dangerous to play with."

I blew a kiss to him out of the back window—what a shame that he missed it; I'd have liked to see his face. But then, he might have followed me. And something had warned me that all the little tricks Virginia had taught me might have proved useless against a man of his type. I like a touch of dissipation in a man's face, sometimes, but it's a warning signal from which I fly when I'm all alone with him.

I was awfully late—Nick told me he'd been waiting an hour when I finally arrived, and he was none too pleasant about it, either.

"But I had such a dreadful time getting away," I told him. "Had to break another engagement to get here at all."

He forgave me by the time we reached the second course, and I got him to talk about his work—he was the kind of man who adores doing that. So he talked on and on about the yacht that had just come into port, on which he'd done some work the year before.

"He forgave me by the time we reached the second course."

"She's a beauty—the Vastiti," he told me, as enthusiastically as if he'd been talking about some woman. "I'd love to have you see her. Listen, Nancy, won't you go over her with me some time? I want you to see what I really can do. Of course, one of the big men of the firm designed this boat, but I had a hand in it. I'm so crazy to make something of myself in that line—it's my one hope. I've wasted a lot of time, since—well, since I got pretty hard hit some months ago. I didn't care much, for a while, but lately I've been trying hard, and since I met you, somehow, I've wanted to try even harder."

"Oh, I know that you can do anything you really want to," I told him, being somebody's inspiration is such fun! "I'd love to see the Vastiti."

"Fine. It belongs to a chap named Kirk Jordan, but we won't say anything to him about you going over the boat. He's well, I wouldn't want you to know him."

A little voice should have whispered a warning to me just then—but it didn't!

WHERE IT STARTED

Sash windows are an English invention; they came into use shortly after the great fire of London. Before this time all windows opened on hinges. The word "sash" comes from the French "chassis," something that slides in a groove. They are mentioned in Lister's "Journey to Paris," published in 1699.

Sour Stomach Is Caused by Acids

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat no sweets of any kind for a while, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of Jad Salts occasionally to help keep down uric and toxic acids.

Rheumatism is caused by poison toxins, called acids, which are generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this poison, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a table-spoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove body waste also to stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

"My Back"

Rub with Red Pepper

Backache calls for red pepper.

So do rheumatic pains, soreness, lameness, cold in chest, etc.

You need penetrating heat.

The modern way is Red Pepper Rub. It so excels old ways that there is no comparison. Nothing creates such concentrated, such penetrating heat as red pepper. And heat that doesn't hurt.

The tingling heat comes instantly. In three minutes it seems to penetrate the depths. Circulation starts, congestion is relieved. The aches and the pains depart.

The quick results seem magical. Relief is usually but a matter of minutes. Red Pepper Rub is now saving people millions of painful hours.

Every home needs it often, and one never knows when. The Rub should always be on hand. Then, night or day, when pain starts relief is at your call.

Go get this new-day method now. Pains you can stop are folly.

HANNA SLIDE RESUMES ITS MARCH TO BAY

The famous Hanna slide at Vallejo Junction, cause of considerable litigation and trouble to the Southern Pacific railroad, is sliding again, and causing no end of difficulties to railroad crews in efforts to control the moving mass of earth.

Recent heavy rains have again set the hill in motion and tons of earth are moving in a solid mass toward the bay, dislodging railroad tracks and snapping rip rap work like match wood.

So far there has been no serious interference with railroad traffic. Trains are forced to negotiate the slide area at a snail's pace and it is necessary to keep maintenance crews at the junction. So far, it is said, the slide has not extended as far up the hill as the state highway and there has been no visible effect on a shelf bridge constructed by the highway commission.

For years the railroad has attempted to control the Hanna hill slide. After fruitless efforts suit was filed on Garvin avenue, between Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth streets, at a cost of $2500; W. L. Robinson, to build an addition to a one-story cottage on Fifth street, between Ripley and Pennsylvania, to cost $450; Mrs. A. Morley, to remodel a two-story apartment house on Sixth street, between Harrett and Ripley avenues, to cost $150. R. Peterson will do the work for Mrs. Morley.

and the slide secured by the railroad in condemnation proceedings. Judgment was given by the jury to Thomas Hanna for $17,000. Obtaining the property the railroad drilled and sunk tunnels in the slide in an effort to tap supposed springs. During the dry years the slide was not very active but to control even the slight earth movement the railroad oiled the entire slide.

Recent rains have started the slide moving again and it is defying human effort to prevent its descent toward the bay.

Alda Thrills Radio Audience In Second Victor Presentation

The joint effort of the Victor Talking Machine Company and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to present the radio public with programs of a higher musical standard had its second test on January 15 when Madame Frances Alda, prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera, sang to an unseen audience of more than 5,000,000.

The famous soprano, whose voice has been characterized as capable of remarkable color-shading, appeared before the microphone for the first time in her career of many triumphs, and before the last notes of her final selection had gone out on the ether, she had scored another triumph. In fact, before the program had concluded the microphone had conveyed to the studio of station WEAI, New York, from which the prima donna broadcast.

The West Side Progressive association is to meet this evening in Washington school for the purpose of electing officers. This is a newly formed club and it is urged that all those interested as well as all members be present to lend their aid to get the association under way.

Lincoln Contest
Medal Displayed
At Obenlund Store

The medal for the Lincoln essay contest, which will be awarded to the Richmond union high school student who writes the best essay on the martyred president, is on display in Obenlund's jewelry store, 921 McDon- ald avenue. The medal is given by the Springfield Illinois Watch Com- pany, which makes a practice of donating an emblem each year for the best written essay on Lincoln by the students of the various high schools throughout the country.

The student who will receive the medal at the high school here will be decided upon at a meeting of judges of the contest the latter part of this week. The judges are Miss Carroll Frederick of the history de- partment; Miss Grace B. Dotts, mathe- matics department, and Miss Ger- trude P. Weatherly of the English department of the high school.

Health Hints
by the Father of Physical Culture

BERNARD MACFARLEN

We make strenuous efforts to learn to read and write, but proper breathing, a thousand times more important, is not given much at- tention.

Air is food. It creates life. If not secured, disease and death soon intervene. If air is of such im- portance, if it is so necessary to life and health, is not the manner in which it is breathed also of very great importance? The answer to this question is plain, but never- theless, the attention given to proper breathing, by the average individual, is practically nil.

Like everything else apper- taining to the physical body, the average person seems to imagine that it "just grows" as it was made to grow and no influence of any kind can change it.

This statement may seem like an exaggeration, but I firmly believe that less than five per cent of the women breathe properly, and if one selects only the leisure classes, where a certain amount of mas- culine work is not compulsory, no doubt less than one out of a hun- dred would be found who makes free and proper use of the lungs.

The terrible results of this evil have been commented upon before and it unquestionably causes thousands to fill premature graves annually, and results in physical and mental maladies for many mil- lions more.

Study the breathing of a little child, lying or standing, not yet hampered and deformed by tight and restrictive bands, and with every breath inhaled, the abdomen at the waist line will go outward, and return as the breath is ex- haled. Here will be found a prac- tical exemplification of proper breathing from which every one can learn; where the child can teach the adult. And the value of this lesson, if it conveys the method and the vast importance of proper breathing, is beyond all financial consideration, for it means in- creased health, stronger and more symmetrical bodies, and all this cannot be bought.

All are familiar with the func- tions of the lungs, but few are aware of the necessity for their proper performance. If one is in the habit of breathing with the chest wall, inhaling continually in "short pants" as it were; if the habit of taking full, deep inspira- tions frequently while in the open air, is not cultivated only a small part of the lungs is used, and every part of the body suffers in con- sequence.

OUCH! BACKACHE!
RUB LUMBAGO AWAY

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 35 cent bottle of old, honest St. Jacobs Oil at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right on your aching back, and the soreness and lameness is gone.

In use for 65 years, this soothing, pen- etrating oil takes the pain right out, and ends the misery. It is absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

"Love's Wilderness" With Corinne Griffith At The California Today

Corinne Griffith and Ian Keith in "Love's Wilderness"

"It's a gift," says Corinne Griffith, "and unless you've got it, keep away from Hollywood."

The "gift" she named is poise, and she declared that without poise no girl could ever hope to become a screen star.

Corinne's outburst came after she and her director, Robert Z. Leonard, had passed upon and been com- pelled to reject nearly 100 girl applicants for minor roles in her new First National picture, "Love's Wilderness," now at the California Theatre.

"Almost any girl can learn to act," she continued, "but poise is the gift of birth. Unless she has inherent grace of manner and movement, she's wasting her time in motion picture studios.

"By poise I also mean the ability to wear clothes gracefully. Many women are failures because they look lumpy in an evening gown. A woman's charm is expressed in her dress—it is the coloring of her personality.

"The whole effect of a scene will be lost if the thought flash- ing through the spectator's mind during a highly dramatic episode is: 'How poorly she dresses,' or 'how slovenly she carries herself in that gown.'"

"Grace cannot be learned, unfortu- nately. It is the sum of all the habits of early life and of inherent tendencies. The lack of this charm is the underlying reason why Holly- wood is over-crowded with heart- broken girls who never seem to be able to get anywhere."

Other features on the same pro- gram include the Star Family in their latest comedy, "Laugh That Off," "International News," Larry P. Canelo at the organ.

FINED FOR OPEN MUFFLER

St. Stark was fined $10 for driving his car down Macdonald avenue, yes- terday, with the muffler of the ma- chine open, by Police Judge C. A. Odell. And Joe Andrews paid a fine of $5, for dumping rubbish on Tenth street, in violation of the city ordinance.

SPEEDERS PAY FINES

Fifty dollars in fines were col- lected by Police Judge C. A. Odell, yesterday on charges of speeding. Those who paid assessments were J. C. Tuttle, $25 for speeding on Cutting boulevard, Frank Leighton, $20; and W. A. Moss, $10.

BIRTH IS REPORTED

A girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mullen, 222 South First street, February 7, according to a certificate filed with the city health department yesterday.

Harold Lloyd In
"Girl Shy" Today
At The Richmond

Harold Lloyd is now a producer. In addition to being the world's foremost screen comedian, Lloyd is also introduced to the public as one of the leading producers of the industry in his most recent feature- Pathe comedy, "Girl Shy," which will be shown at the Richmond Theatre today and tomorrow.

With "Girl Shy" Lloyd gives to the public his initial independently made Pathe comedy, and from all accounts it will establish him as high in the producing field as he stands in the acting plane.

With only a few exceptions the same staff that has assisted Lloyd in the making of such triumphs as "Why Worry," "Safety Last," and "Dr. Jack," were associated with the spectacle comedy in the produc- tion of "Girl Shy." When he en- tered the ranks of the independent producers, Harold took with him vir- tually intact the staff that he has had around him for several years.

Fred Newmeyer and Sam Taylor directed "Girl Shy," as they have the most recent Lloyd successes. The story was written by Taylor, Ted Wilde, Tim Whelan and Tommy Gray who, with the exception of the lat- ter, helped make "Why Worry" one of the screen knockouts of 1923.

Gray, who joined the Lloyd forces shortly after "Girl Shy" had been placed in work, is known as one of America's foremost humorists. He has written more successful sketches for vaudeville than probably any other writer for the American vari- ety stage in recent years. He has also written the books for several editions of the Greenwich Village Folies, the Music Box Revue and other stage productions.

Lloyd's role in this new film is said to be so entirely different from any he has ever attempted to portray, that he debated a long time before tackling the part.

The locale of "Girl Shy" is for the most part in a small town, al- though towards the end of the pic- ture the action is staged in the city. Lloyd will introduce a real novelty to the screen in this picture, and he has carefully guarded his secret because it is his own idea and to have it known before the showing of the film would rob it of some of its appeal.

As is usual with the Lloyd Pathe comedies, there is only a small cast in "Girl Shy." Jolyana Ralston is again seen as Harold's leading wo- man. Richard Daniels, Carlton Grif-

PUTTING FINISH TOUCHES ON MODEL OF MEMORIAL TO MARK BOSTON LANDING-PLACE OF WORLD FLIERS

John Francis Parmanino, Boston sculptor, is shown above with his model of the proposed memorial to the American army aviators who cir- cled the globe. A bill has been in- troduced in the Massachusetts legisla- ture authorizing the erection of the memorial on the spot where the fliers landed in Boston. The proposed memorial is a globe, six feet in di- ameter, which is surmounted by an airplane.

Guy Wolf Speaks
At Lion's Club

Guy Wolf, secretary-manager of the chamber of commerce, while speak- ing before the Lions club yesterday stated that the entire economic sys- tem of the United States should be adjusted to meet new world needs resulting from the World War. "Something to think about," instead of "shop talk" would be given to the members, said Wolf. He declared that his belief was that this country should be one of free trade and that as a creditor nation it should receive goods as interest on its investment in foreign countries.

Cizmich is Fined
On Liquor Charge

A plea of guilty was entered by Gus Cizmich to the charge of hav- ing liquor in his possession, when he appeared before Police Judge C. A. Odell yesterday. He was fined $500 or a day in jail for every dollar unpaid.

Cizmich's place on East Richmond avenue, was raided on Sunday after- noon, and a quantity of liquor and two stills were found.

"Aint" It The Truth

We use the word "Aint" in the headline—not be- cause we don't know any better—but because the term seems to be universally used whenever there is particular reason for drawing attention to some item.

Strictly speaking, "Aint" means Am-I-Not and Am-I-Not has no contraction.

But that Ain't what we're driving at.

We are trying to show the careful housewife the importance of reading the advertisements. First of all the merchant is a specialist in his particular line. He is con- stantly in touch with the market. He knows when some manufacturers need money badly. He takes advantage of that condition and passes the saving along to his customers.

He knows that when he gives you a bargain you will come into his place of business often—and that means more business for him.

Perhaps an article that today is worth $5.00 next week he may offer you the same thing for $3.00 because of his shrewd buying.

You AIN'T never going to get the benefit of these bargains unless you—

IN THE REALM OF SPORT

Sports For Sports Sake

By HERBERT REED (Cricket Writer)

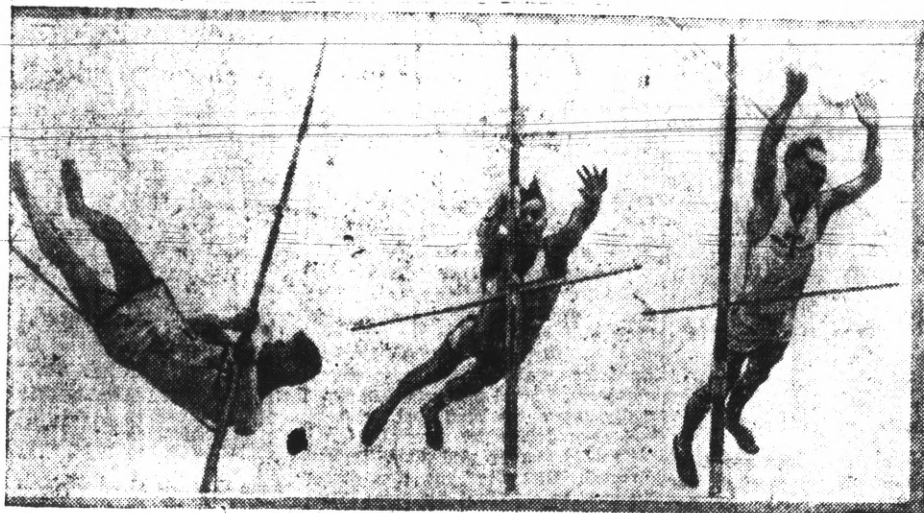

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Sooner or later before Nurni leaves for his home land, there probably will be a match race between the Finn and Jole Ray, the American champion. Preferably it should be held out of doors, but failing that, on the best indoor track available. Ray has not been satisfied with his defeats. Despite the fact that he was willing to hang up his boots last year at any distance he now complains that he is above all, a sufferer, and America's best at that distance. Already beaten at a mile, Jole thinks he can reverse the verdict. In fairness to Ray the race should be run. And in fairness to the Finn it should have only the two entries so that the visiting runner can be boxed as he once was against a full American field.

Jole takes his defeats splendidly and like a true champion, while he is still on the track, but has not been so sportsman-like about them a day or two afterward.

There is something to be said, of course, for Ray's argument. Although usually rather badly put by himself and come of his spokesmen, the mile after all, is a sentimental Anglo-Saxon distance, and most American folk-ways would be willing to let some of the other titles go in the hope of retaining that one. They have had to let the other titles go anyway. In my opinion the Finn would win, but only such a race will tell the story.

There are other sentimental Anglo-Saxon events in which said Anglo-Saxons have been more uniformly successful. Notably the sprints, the quarter, the half, and the hurdles. So far as America is concerned, the English and the English colonials have raised the greatest havoc with these pet events. Save the hurdles. Now we have Christenson, the Swede, threatening the hurdle racers, and although he runs for the Newark A. C., it is felt that his invasion is also a threat to the Anglo-Saxon.

So long as the Pacific Coast continues to turn out its remarkable stars in the field events, America is probably fairly safe in that quarter, but Charlie Poff of Norway, is still dangerously in the offing. And there are other Scandinavians in sight who some day will make in the jumps and with the weights.

High School Team Plays Pittsburg

The 120 pound basketball team of the high school will journey to Pittsburg, this afternoon to engage the unlimited team of the high school there. As the local boys are going away several pounds in weight, it is expected that they will have to put up a hard battle to win. The enrollment at the Pittsburg high school is very small, but with his handicap they usually manage to put forth a fair basketball team, and this year is no exception to the rule.

Manuel S. Moitoza, 23, Richmond and Hae M. Malone, 19, Oakland took out a marriage license in Oakland yesterday.

Junior High Team To Play Burbanks

On Friday afternoon the Junior high school 120 pound and unlimited basketball teams will engage the Burbank Junior high school team of Berkeley, in the school gym here. The 85 and 100 pound teams of the Junior high school will play the teams of the same weight from the St. Joseph's Academy of Berkeley, here. It is planned to run two games off at the same time, as the Junior high court is large enough to do this.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Cornelius Cronin, 29, and Hannah Mullan, 29, both of Richmond, secured a marriage license in Martinez, yesterday.

Second of Title Games is Set For Thursday Night

The second game of the series to decide the championship of the Richmond Basketball League will be played Thursday night, at the Junior high school gym, between the Kearney Furrer and Club teams, the winners of the respective groups in the league. The game is scheduled for 8 o'clock. A preliminary game will be played between the Wolves, one of the fastest teams in the city, with an opponent yet to be chosen. Negotiations are under way to bring the Wheeler's Speeders of Berkeley here.

The first game between the championship contestants last Thursday night resulted in the Kearney Furrer team winning out by a very close score. The Club team upset the dope by forcing the Kearney Furrer outfit to fight every inch of the way. And it was only the failure of the losers to convert many of the foul throws that spelled defeat in the end.

The Club team was minus two of their stars, Andy Anderson and Art Muth. Anderson will be back for tomorrow night's game, which should strengthen the team a great deal. Muth is in Los Angeles, and will not play in the series.

If the Kearney Furrer team wins Thursday night, they will be the champions and will receive a gold basketball emblem, donated by the Spalding Brothers sporting goods store. The emblems are now on display in the windows of Alberts, Inc. store.

Carlson Wins in Handball Games

Tom Carlson again acquitted himself with high honors when he defeated Goldman in their handball games at the Y gym yesterday. The winner slammed in killer after killer and never gave his opponent a chance to gain any headway. The scores were 21 to 4 and 21 to 5.

Carlson will play Woolslayer in the third round of the tournament some day next week and the winner of that heat will tangle with Mueller for the championship.

Woolslayer won his battle on Monday night when he beat Hill with a score of 21-19 and 21-7.

Edison Team Loses To Local Juniors

Playing a greatly improved game over that exhibited in previous contests, the Roosevelt Junior high school unlimited basketball team defeated the Edison Junior high school team of Berkeley, Monday afternoon 12 to 7 in the school gym here. The game was hard fought and cleanly played throughout.

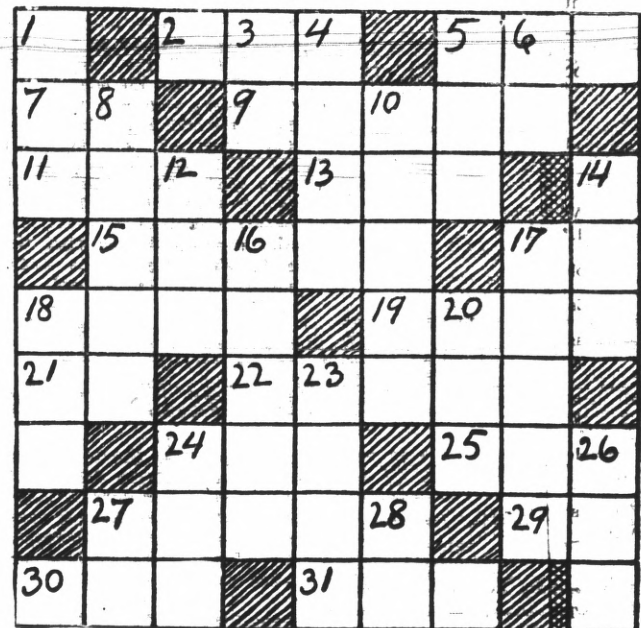

Daily Cross Word Puzzle

The way to solve the Cross Word Puzzle is to fill in the white squares of the diagram with the words which agree with the accompanying definitions. The definitions are numbered to correspond with the numbers on the diagram.

Any word defined in the text under "HORIZONTAL" will begin at its number, shown on the diagram, and will extend all the way across to the first black space to the right of that number. That is, the word must begin in the square that contains its identifying number, and extend as far as the white squares continue uninterrupted.

Any word defined under "VERTICAL" will also begin in the white space that contains its number, but will extend downward as far as the white space remain uninterrupted.

AIR CRUISE IS AIMED IN U. S. DEFENSE PLANS

BY CHARLES B. FARMER (By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The proposed flight of the navy dirigible Los Angeles to Bermuda next week may be delayed so that members of the House Aircraft Committee can question its officers regarding the need of super-Zeppelins in this country's defense service.

Captain George W. Steele Jr., will command the Los Angeles—formerly the ZR-3, on that cruise; Commander Jacob M. Klein, Jr., will be the executive officer. Both officers flew across the Atlantic recently in the vessel and for this reason their opinions are desired immediately by the committee.

SCHEDULE FOR MONDAY

The Los Angeles flight is scheduled to start next Monday. The committee hopes to make its report two days later. It is a question whether the desired officers can give their testimony before the flight, as the committee does not meet again until Thursday. Several days might be taken in the examinations.

If Steele and Klein cannot appear between Thursday and Monday either the flight might be delayed, or else the committee will ask additional time for the investigation and report. Representative Florian Lampert, permanent chairman of the committee, said today exclusively to Universal Service:

"I shall suggest to the committee at its next session that both Captain Steele and Commander Klein, now at the Lakehurst (N. J.) naval station, be subpoenaed to appear before the committee.

FAMILIAR WITH AIR SHIPS.

"These officials are familiar with the possibilities of such gigantic airships as Representatives McClintic proposes this Government shall construct.

"If they say such ships are feasible, then why not take the lead in defending the country against possible invasion?"

Representative Anning S. Prall of New York said that Captain Steele and Commander Klein should be subpoenaed.

Mr. Prall said that the next important problem to take up was "The question of whether anti-aircraft guns are of any value against airplanes and ships."

To elect officers and effect permanent organization the West Side Progressive association will meet at the Washington school tonight. C. F. Westwood, temporary chairman, will preside.

STOCK MARKET QUOTATIONS

By RICHARD SPILLANE (By Universal Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—It was a very erratic stock market today. More than 10 per cent of the transactions were in four issues—Cast iron pipe, Universal pipe, Worthington pump and Independent oil and gas, in which William C. Durant is generally understood to be largely interested. His favorite, United States cast iron pipe, was the leader. On Monday cast iron pipe sold at 195 and closed at 214, being 19-1-4 up for that day. Today it opened at 220, rose to 239 1-2 and closed at 225 1-2, or 11 1-2 up for the day. Between the low of Monday and the high of today, there was a difference of 43 7-8 points.

While a considerable number of issues had large gains, the market did not please those who judge it dispassionately. It was a hedge podge affair. United States steel showed no animation. Coppers, shipping shares and most of the motors loafed. With the exception of Wash, Texas Pacific, New Haven and Frisco, most of the rails did little.

Various of the chemicals were strong.

General Motors and Du Pont disappointed many in not advancing to new highs on General Motors' dividend increase.

The steels, oils, merchandisers, coppers and sugars were generally dull.

Banking authorities differ as to the continuance of the present low money rate. Some look for higher rates within a short time while others believe present rates will continue for a long time.

Grains had one of the heaviest if not the heaviest, declines of the crop year. It was in three waves—at the opening, next to mid-day and finally, toward the close.

At the height of the action a report came from Chicago that request would be made to limit advances or declines in prices on the Board of Trade after the fashion that prices swings are limited on the New York Cotton Exchange. This is to prevent market demoralization or semi-panic.

Cotton made a gain of from 9 to 16 points, it was firm throughout the session and was rather disappointing to more ardent bulls because it didn't show more of a disposition to climb higher.

SHARP LOSSES ON WHEAT

By CHARLES J. LEYDEN (By Universal Service)

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Discouraged longs unloaded their holdings freely in the wheat pit today and found the buying power badly demoralized. Prices swung irregularly to sharp losses finally.

May wheat was off 8 cents at one time from the previous close and finished near the bottom, or 6 7-8 to 7 1-4 cents off. At $183 1-4 the May delivery showed a loss of 22 5-8 cents down; corn was 3 5-8 to 1 cents off; oats were 1 5-8 to 3 1-4 cents lower and rye ruled 5 1-2 to 6 3-4 cents lower.

While the current fundamental news on wheat was bearish today the real influence back of most of the liquidating pressure seemed to result from the fear that the government might possibly take some steps to limit the daily fluctuations of prices. As the trade saw it,

W.C.T.U. HOLDS MEMORIAL FOR MRS. WILLARD

At the meeting of the W. C. T. U. in the home of Mrs. Fred Wagner, 1222 Chanslor avenue, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock a memorial program was held in honor of Francis E. Willard.

Mrs. Margaret Longacre, who was in charge of the program, in her address characterized Francis Willard as the uncrowned queen. She declared that her influence would never die. Mrs. M. Audibert gave a talk on the life of Miss Willard.

Reminiscences of Francis Willard were related by Miss N. Nesbit. She told of hearing one of her inspiring addresses and spoke of the good that had been done by the great leader.

Statistics on the organization of W. T. C. U. since its creation 50 years ago were given by Miss Nesbit. She said that during the past ten years receipts collected by the order were greater than those collected during the previous 40 years. She declared that prohibition made for thrift. Last year, she said, every man, woman and child in the United States had saved an average of $156. The total savings for the year were $18,373,620. This sum, she explained, was greater than all sums deposited in the banks of the country 10 years ago.

A program* of the following numbers was given: Piano solo, Mrs. F. Audibert; violin solo, Dorothy Rose; piano solo, Miss Gladys Miller.

A card of praise and commendation was ordered written to Mrs. Charles Goff, who, it was said, was the means of her husband holding his present position as head of the prohibition forces in San Francisco. As a conclusion to the festivities of the afternoon refreshments were served by Mrs. Wagner.

governmental interference, direct or otherwise, is always a disturbing factor, as well as depressing.

Export trade was slack most of the day, but the extreme break uncovered many bids, and late advices from the seaboard placed the business in all positions at 1,000,000 bushels or more. Liverpool closed 1 1-4 to 4 1-2 cents lower.

Liquidation in corn was extensive and prices gave way rapidly. The trade had it that some important lines went overboard and the demand on the dips was discouraging. Reports from the country tell of a 10 cents lower.

Cornet Soloist May Appear at Concerts

Negotiations are now under way to induce David Rosebrook, nationally known cornet soloist, to come to this city and appear in the semi-monthly municipal concerts. Other well known soloists are being lined up for engagements here, according to J. E. Hill, player in the orchestra.

Slack demand, especially in the Southwest. The basis locally was irregular at the last.

Oats were subjected to heavy liquidating pressure, especially the May delivery and prices broke badly.

Rye broke with wheat. Liquidation was the main factor. Export demand for this grain was moderate. Eastern selling of lard sent prices downward. Lard closed 10 to 15 cents lower and ribs finished 2 1-2 reports from the country tell of a 10 cents lower.

Noted Stringed Ensemble Broadcasts For First Time In Third Victor Air Recital

Following out its intention, inaugurated in Washington, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Providence, Worcester and Boston. On the same program were Miguel Fleta, Spanish tenor of the Metropolitan Opera, and Miss Lucy Isabelle Marsh, lyric soprano, both of whom are also artists of the Victor company.

The Flonzaley Quartet is a musical treat of a new and superlative order. The players—the quartet consists of two violins, a viola and a cello—have won a unique place in the hearts of music lovers the world over. The greatest composers have lavished their genius on the production of chamber music, most advantageously played by such an ensemble as the Flonzaley.

To obtain the delicate harmony and rare unity necessary in this work is a gift of genius in itself. For this reason this music is seldom played. The Flonzaley Quartet is world famous for the perfection of combined performance and artistic ideals. The Quartet binds its members not to play in solo work so as to preserve the perfect unity of their combined playing.

The players are: Adolfo Betti, first violin; Alfred Pochon, second; Felicien d'Archaubeau, viola; and Ivan d'Archaubeau, cello.

Your Town

If you want to live in the kind of a town

Like the kind of a town you like,

You needn't slip your clothes in a grip

And go on a long, long hike.

You will only find what you left behind,

For there's nothing that's really new;

It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town

It isn't the town—IT'S YOU.

Real towns are not made by men afraid,

Lest somebody else get ahead,

Where everyone works and nobody shirks

You can raise a town from the dead.

And if—while you make your make,

Your personal stake;

Your neighbors can make one too,

Your town will be what you want it to be,

It Isn't The Town—IT'S YOU.
